Leadership

Board of Trustees

Overseen by the George Washington University Board of Trustees, our leadership team is committed to providing a unique and rigorous education to our students while creating a path of transformative growth to further solidify our position as one of the world's premier research universities.

Led by chair Grace Speights, a 1982 alumna of GW Law, the board is responsible for our university's governance. The board plays a key role in:

- determining how the university will meet the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead
- overseeing fiscal, academic and physical operations
- providing leadership for the GW strategic initiatives, which are designed to enhance academics and student life

Student Leadership

Student leaders take shape in many forms from members of the Student Government Association to captains of varsity athletics and student organization presidents. GW students don't just participate in campus life; they stimulate it and consistently make their mark.

All student leaders, regardless of their role, work to start a conversation and make progress on an issue or topic.
