Undergraduate Majors

Columbian College offers 67

undergraduate majors ranging from astrophysics and art history to political science and photojournalism.

Our students are immersed in the cultural, scientific, analytical and theoretical realms—and thrive in the spaces where these realms intersect.

If you are curious, disciplined, politically active and socially aware, you will feel right at home at Columbian College.

Org Sci Class Examines Decision Making

December 13, 2023

Students in Nils Olsen's organizational sciences seminar on Extreme Decisions explore how decision makers operate under intense pressures.

"We are working on skills that we need to use in the real world, and we learn how to conduct ourselves as a professional, whether that be how we present ourselves on paper, in resume writing or in oral presentation."
